Re: prioritization / attention management / productivity

there's several ideas packed in here.

PRIORITIZATION like project management

" like time management organization, ~~man~~ systems & ADHD

PRIORITIZATION like spoon theory and then productivity & what it means to me in ~~own~~ relation to my values - anti capitalism, disability justice, toxic work culture.

there's also a theme in my experience of self-discipline, anti-authority, and the urge to reject a task that is externally enforced. But also a need for structure!

Making this into an actionable, measurable goal has been rough.

I think writing about my needs & goals around productivity will be an actionable outcome. Also ~~describing~~ describing and reflecting on organization / task management systems.

A major barrier has been that ~~it's~~ it's hard to be honest & transparent about this process in which it will be recorded & graded. I feel like I have to perform learning in a certain way, which is reinforced by the excel logbook.

Another barrier has been mixing personal to-dos with study. better separating "work" & life might make it less over whelming.

Learning outcomes:

- notes from books
- • personal essay on productivity mindset
- • productivity tools & techniques experiments + Ranking
- feedback from semester 1
- feedback on essays, ranking

Goals: ???

- personal satisfaction?
 - ability to ~~self~~ self direct tasks?
 - task completion?
 - self knowledge?
 - a toolkit of strategies?
- MINDSET & TOOLKIT

a personal productivity praxis measuring success by performance
a. makes me perform worse and
b. assumes a controlled environment which is not true for me

Next Step: finalize SMART ~~Goal~~ Goal!
Look up how to ~~measure~~ measure a goal like this.

~~NEXT STEP~~ RE: VIDEO ~~EDITING~~ PRODUCTION

- ① Complete planned courses
 - ② Edit in-progress into ~~the~~ video
 - ③ [↑] get feedback

FINAL PROJECT

- ① ANOTHER INTERVIEW? FOCUS ON ~~WHAT~~ MARKETING ~~FOR~~ ~~SMALL BUSINESS~~ SKILLS W/IN SUSTAINABLE SMEs?

THIS WEEK: PPD - book notes; video courses
FINAL PROJECT - ?

→ NEXT STEP - review research, project.
find possible fit.
will likely need to do another interview
